

The church has a vital role to play in helping to end modern slavery and human trafficking. No person or organization will be able to eradicate this evil by working in isolation when the church stands together.

Who we are

Mwagale Foundation is an indigenous NGO registered in Uganda, dedicated to addressing pressing social issues, that include trafficking in person and modern slavery, human dignity, Pan Africanism, and climate change.

We are committed to providing sustainable solutions and support to the most vulnerable communities in Uganda and beyond. Our work is driven by a passion for social justice and a belief in the power of collective action to bring about meaningful change.

Our reasons why.

- Combat Trafficking in Persons and Modern Slavery
- Promote and Uphold Human Dignity.
- Foster Pan African Unity and Cooperation.
